INTRODUCTORY

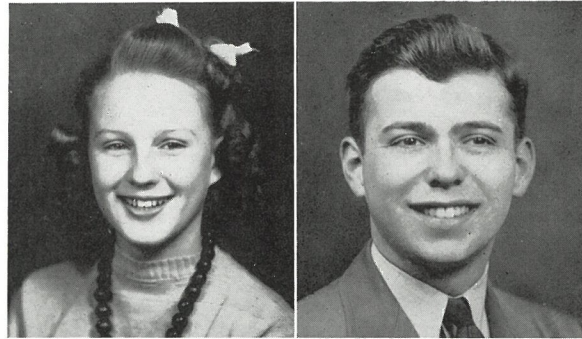

As you know, each year the Senior Class has charge of the production of the Itakha. Unaccustomed to celebration, as we Seniors are, the task assumed momentous proportions, so with determination, we rolled up our sleeves and strode into the battle. Staggering into our corner after the first round, we were still undaunted. We, thus, reached deep, deep, and still deeper into our reservoir of energy and adjectives and attacked the task again. Finally after an exhaustive battle, we climbed out of the imaginary ring with the 1943 Itakha. We, the Senior Class, sincerely hope that you will like it.

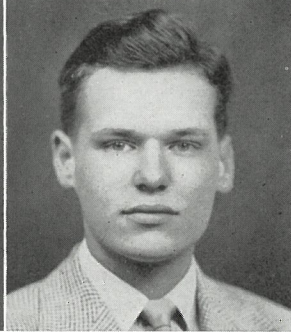

DEDICATION

To W. G. Siler, who, through his unfailing loyalty and many services to the school and students, has won the admiration and respect of everyone. Although, his departure was an occasion of great sorrow, we are certain that he will serve the Red Cross as faithfully as he has M. H. S.

CLASS FLASH

May 14, 1952

Good evening ladies and gentlemen. This is your social newscaster, Margaret Haynes, speaking to you from station WDC, that brings you the news once each day, located on the third floor of Blackwell's Bird Building, owned and operated by Glen Blackwell and Clem Tomlinson, right here in the center of Washington. At the present time all of the birds are at peace and I'm not expecting any interruption during the broadcast unless my secretary, Mary Slusher, or a parrot come fluttering in with a breezy bit of news.

Tonight I'm paying especial tribute to Morristown, Tennessee, my home town, and to the high school graduates of 1943, who after working hard (at least some people call it that) for the past nine years have become very successful (?).

An event that promises to be the most outstanding social function of the year was held at Caving Caverns this afternoon. It was then that Mrs. Jean Medlin Miller gave a reception honoring the new President, John Helms and the First Lady, formerly Betty Grigsby, who will both be remembered for their brilliant work in history.

For this occasion the mansion was rapidly thrown together being designed and built by Fred Cole, the architect, and Earnest Dearing, Henry Ford and Donald Gray as chief carpenters. The only difficulty which they had in its construction was getting the roof to stay attached to the house. Frank Smallwood, a famous inventor of household necessities, came to their rescue. He and his assistant, Charles Noe, obtained some strong string from Rippetce Rope Factory and tied the string from the chimneys to the surrounding shrubbery thereby solving the problem, adding to the beauty of the estate, and certainly keeping the guests on the outside wanting in. The interior decorators, Bertie Masengill, Beverly Swanson, and Marjorie Rogers, did a superb piece of work with the decorations of orange and black.

The hostesses, Mrs. Miller, and Elsa Maxwell of Washington, were charmingly gowned in orange and black trimmed with pink ribbon. Jimmie Miller, her ex-husband, was unable to attend, because the shock of their separation hurt him so deeply that he re-joined the Marines. They were married immediately following the close of the war in 1944. Now her constant companions are two well-known horse dentists, Jack Strate and Ralph Charles. One is not complete without the other and all of Washington, including me, is wondering what the final outcome of this trio will be.

Guests included people from every corner of the globe. Among them that noted speaker, Marie Easley, who has been touring the country speaking on "The Advantages and Disadvantages of Eating". Her best friend and chief advisor, Antionette Harbin, has joined the ranks of the heavily-built by tipping the scales at ninety pounds.

Throughout the afternoon, music was furnished by John McCrary and his Orchestra, which included Paul Higgins, Virginia Massengill, and Sherman Turner (who after eight years of trying has at last learned to play a clarinet). A trio composed of Mary Lou Boatman, Florence Faddis, and Marie Hanks emphasized the seriousness of the event by singing beautifully "Right In Der Fuerher's Face". James L. Hipsher's solo of "You Are My Sunshine" nearly caused a riot in the feminine section, so with this, the music was brought to a rapid finish.

The Secretary of State, C. T. Rankin, confided to me that he was seriously contemplating resigning his position to go to New York in order to buy Charlie Harrell's Hat Shop. It so seems while Charlie was in Paris selecting his Spring supply of hats, he became so infatuated with the Paris cuties that he forgot to return. The Undersecretary of State Jack Cavett was observing and heeding his bosses' words.

During the course of the afternoon I obtained information about many of my former classmates. Some of which were incredible. My conversation with Betty Jones, who has become a second Amelia Earhart, was delightful as well as helpful about people and events back home. She has just returned from a visit and did not withhold any news from me.

Our former valedictorians, Elsie Funderburke and Shirley Bewley, have taken

Miss Holdway's place in the Spanish Department of MHS and after six years they have realized their mistake. I might add that at last Otis Blanken has gotten the courage to ask Shirley to be his wife. He was prompted to take this drastic step by John Harrison, who seems to be well-experienced along these lines.

Speaking of teachers, more former students have accepted positions with the faculty. Sarah Jane Noe and Ina Stansberry now have complete control of the Home Ec. Courses. We hope! With June Allen and Blanch Wilder in the Chemistry Department anything can happen and usually does.

Mrs. Louis V. Bean and Mrs. Bryan Sanders, formerly Mildred Gilbert and Anna F. Collins have been seen together lately buying furnishings for their new duplex, which was built next door to the Hamblen County Jail, conveniently located for their husbands, who are employed there to keep order and peace (?).

Betty Jones also told me that my favorite beauty operators, Mary Nell Wade, Alma Harville, and Mae Young have opened a new beauty salon on Henry St. Frances Cupp and Marion Roddy, their most faithful customers, had an accident recently. While singeing their eyelashes the machine got out of control burning them badly. Dr. Charles Woods was called and much to their sorrow they remained alive.

When I asked what had become of Nancy McMahan I was told that she is still unable to make up her mind whether to become the wife of a Chief Petty Officer in the Navy or marry and live "down on the farm". Fred Ewing, owner of "Dairy Products For Every Occasion", causes more complications in this case.

Margaret and George Price recently purchased Watson's. They expect to be kept in business by the numerous purchases of the Thompson sisters. Since Perlle gives all the credit for her achievement in winning the Most Strangely Dressed Lady in East Tennessee to this store, Occie Lee cannot be lured away on any terms. Margaret Nan Moore and Eula Moyers, two bride-elects, have promised to buy their trousseaus there and are assured of amazing results.

Vivian Graham Walker and Lucy Herrell Williams confided to several people they are having trouble keeping their husbands content with only three meals each day. Now that food rationing is gone forever they expect four or more meals. Vivian and Lucy are desperately worried and advice from anyone would be greatly appreciated. Almajean Smith, Mildred Calfee, and Imogene Ellison are the chief cooks at the County Poor Farm and have helped them some.

Enough of news at home and now back to the reception. There I observed Major Howard Taylor and Captain Harold McNabb, Army Air Corps officials and well confirmed bachelors, talking with Martha Nowlin, author of many history books, presumably about the tactics of World War II. Lt. Ed Rader and Pfc. Kenneth Morrison had some comments about their various escapades and thrilling experiences in this war. Rear Admiral James French was seen expressing his views on this subject. Also representing the Navy was First Class Seamen Eugene Justice, Clarence Easley, and Eddie Julian.

Lawyer Herbert Bacon was drowning his sorrows with drink and the captivating company of Chesterfield's two glamorous models, Evelyn Jones and Annie Rae Gilmore. Some think his worries are all over now that his wife, Mrs. Bobby Hale Kreis Gratz Bacon, is definitely on her way to Reno. Now he tells me her plans are to write articles advising people never to marry. His opinion of this is quote--censored--end of quotation. With Esther Horner as his private secretary we expect Herbert to continue his criminal law practice.

Perry Jolley was also there and doing a bit of advertising on the side. Immediately upon graduation, with the benefit of his long fingernails, he secured a position with a new Chinese Company that manufactures fingernail polish. He has been very successful in this work.

Thanks to the editor of the New York Times, Hugh M. Taylor, just this minute a news bulletin came to me that Victor Leach and Millard Hodges' book, "How to Become Handsome In Six Easy Lessons", is breaking all previous records with its stupendous sales.

My time is almost up so I'm signing off until we meet again some other day. Cheerio!

Margaret Haynes

Left to right— First row—
Woodman, Woodman, spare that tree! "True Love's" brother. Boat on lake, period.
Second row—
You see, Boney does work (at times). Is he kiddin'? Best looking couple. "Dr. "Harrell", if you please!
Third row—
The Three Stooges. Stick with the gun, Bacon. Yeah, and they're still at it! Late as usual.
Fourth row—
Baby and her family. Bean, the shark, cuing the rock. Snap! Crackle! Pop!

THE LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE CLASS OF 1943

We, the members of the Senior Class of Morristown High School, do declare this our last will and testament, duly drawn up, signed and sealed.

Tops again! Shirley Bewley, Elsie Funderburke, and Antionette Harbin leave their good grades to Ruth Massey, Virginia Epps, and Marie Hayes. Hugh M. Taylor wishes to leave the many treasurer offices, but no money, to John D. Wallace. Esther Horner's and Virginia Ann Massengill's ability to obtain whistling from the sidelines to Martha Webb and Anita Horton. (and we're not kidding.) Alma Harville and Minnie Mae Bishop's quietness to Virginia Price and Ruth Atchley!!! Perry Jolley's book sachel to some faithful Junior. R. L. McCurry's Charlie Woods', Clem Tomlinson's, and Kenneth Morrison's loud mouths to Billy Knight and J. W. Shipley. Otis Blanken, Bryan Sanders, and Donald Gray leave their hopes that Victor Covington, Darrell Susong, and Fat Graham will be class champions in the intramural basketball tournament next year. Speaking of basketball Paul Walker and Sherman Turner wish to give a few tips to Billy Russell and Charles Birely. Betty Grigsby wishes to leave her speaking ability to Helen Knox. June Allen's and Beverly Swanson's giggling ability to Dot Livingston and Marie Doka. Fred Cole's ability as a football player to Baldy Cosson. Marjorie Rogers and Eula Moyers leave their ability to get a man to Sophia Smith and Billie Hisey. Those high steps of our majorettes, Betty Jones, Mildred Gilbert, and Lou Nowlin go to Christine Reagan. Margaret Nan Moore's Occie Lee and Pearlie Mae Thompson's pleasing personality goes to Frances Karr and Dorothy Scarbrough. Nancy McMahan leaves James Bruce, Patsy Siler being the lucky receiver. Mary Bob Hale's Evelyn Jones, and Jean Medlin's striking ability to kiss the boys "goodbye" to Jo Anne Sawyer and Mary Ruth Hale. Margaret Haynes and Howard Taylor leave their courting ability to Nelle Ruth Portrum and Buddy Julian. Mary Lou Boatman, Florence Faddis, and Marie Easley leave the unsolved rationing problem to Louella Goble and Jean Reiland. Victor "Wolfe" Leach leaves his ability to flirt with the girls to Tommy Horner. Virgil Rippetoe leaves a fe-fe-few absence slips to Elmer Hartman. Paul Higgin's, John Helm's and Edwin Rader's ability to argue goes to Jack Newman. Henry Ford's, Paul Drinnon's Earnest Dearing and Charles Noe's childish scuffles to Jack Harbin, Raymond Williams, and Clarence Rouse. Jack Cavett leaves a few dates to Floyd Tuttle. Marion Roddy and Alma-jean Smith's friendship to Eloise Martin and Mary Nell Murray. Anna F. Collins and Ina Stansberry leave two hot typewriters to Georgia Garrettson and Betty Jo Sams. Herbert Bacon leaves his interesting jokes to Mr. Vance. Jack Strate and Fred Ewing leave their Rah! Rah! Rah's! to Deanne Milligan and Barbara Tuttle. Pete Rankin, John Harrison, and Millard Hodge leave their popularity with the women to Howell Inman and Marvin Wisecarver. Bertie Mae Massengill leaves her chewing gum techniques to Maggie Smith. Margaret Felknor Price, Gracie Harville, and Lucy Herrell leave their ability to say those two short words, "I do," to some of the most fortunate Juniors. Admiral C. M. Easley, Ensign Eugene Justice, and Chief Petty Officers, Richard Holt, Theodore Varnadore, and Edward Julian leave their boasts of the U. S. Navy to Pete Altom, Jimmy Honeycutt, and Francis Felknor. Mary Nell Wade's basketball ability goes to Carolyn King and Norma Jean Carson. Jimmy French reluctantly leaves Barbara Tuttle. Mae Young and Imogene Ellison leave their ambition to be a secretary to Marjorie Ewing and Peggy May. Blanche Wilder leaves her northern brogue to Charlsie Mathes. Frances Cupp and Mildred Calfee leave their ability to make friends to Ruth Owen and Billie Canter. Harry Roddy leaves his ability to win Track medals and running women to James Bruce. Marie Hanks, Sarah Jane Noe's, and Mary K. Slusher's red hair, but not that over flowing temper of redheaded women, to Carolyn Kirk. Jimmy Miller and Frank Smallwood, our two bashful Leathernecks, leave their ability to love to anyone that can stand it. Annie Rae Gilmore and Carolyn Cavett leave their ability to get people told to anyone having the guts. Charlie Harrell and John McCrary leave their front seats in the orchestra, but not that red hot rhythm, to Hix Slagle and Jack Fish. Fred Ewing leaves his bow ties to Edd Harrell.

I leave THIS for YOU
YOU leave THIS for HIM
But WE all leave HIGH SCHOOL for GOOD

P. S. To the junk man the loser of the battle over Mid Rayburn, namely Harold McNabb and Ralph Charles.

TO M. H. S.

We're saying goodbye to M. H. S.
The class of forty-three
You've paved our way with lofty thoughts
And so our thanks to thee.

We're proud of all you've given us
And we will try to be
The finest class to leave your halls
The Class of forty-three.

We've given Sailors and Marines
Some Cadets and Soldiers, too
And every heart just yearns to serve
The old Red, White and Blue.

Our destination is unknown
But Victory is our aim
The determination in our hearts
Will surely win us fame.

Farewell M. H. S., may those who follow
In future years still find
The same loyal spirit at M. H. S.
We are leaving behind.

Hi-Y REPORT

Through the cooperation of all the members, the Hi-Y Club has brought to a close one of the most successful years in its history. Although several of the boys have left for service throughout the year we have kept our attendance up rather well. We were very sorry to lose Eugene Justice, our President, but we were certainly glad to have Jimmy French to take his place, who has proven very capable.

The programs for the year have been very interesting and inspiring. The club was well represented at the Hi-Y Conference held in Chattanooga. Those who attended were Jimmy French, Jack Cavett, Victor Leach, James Bruce and John Doyle Wallace. One of our greatest accomplishments this year was the repairing of the fountain. All in all we think this has been a very successful year for the Hi-Y.

BETA CLUB

First Row— Anna Florence Collins, Margaret Price, Clarence Easley,

Second Row— John E. Helms 111, James L. Hipsher, Hugh M. Taylor, James Bruce, Miss Sara Fleming (Sponsor), Clem Tomlinson, Glenn Blackwell.

Third Row— Antionette Harbin, Miss Majors (Sponsor), Martha Webb, Christine Reagan, Marie Hayes, Mary Margaret Bell, Leora Eller, Agnes Bryan.

This year has been a very successful year in the Beta Club. At the beginning of the school term we took in a large number from the Junior Class.

We were very sorry to lose Miss Fleming as sponsor of the club, but we were glad to obtain Miss Majors, as she proved herself quite capable.

We contributed two and a half dollars to the Beta Educational Fund. To the sophomore making the highest grades we gave two and half dollars in war stamps. Last but certainly not the least, we finally rated our picture in the Beta Journal.

This year, the Girl Reserves have taken part in several things. We have sewed for the Red Cross and rolled bandages. On Feb. 8th we had our annual banquet at the Hotel Kingmyer. We gave Mr. Siler a nice gift when he left for the army and also conducted the chapel programs one day through the whole school. Several members attended the State Conference at Newport at which one of our members was elected Sec. and Treas. for the coming year. All in all, we have had a very successful year.

The Junior Girl Reserves met monthly this year and each meeting was a success. The Annual Girl Reserve Banquet was held February 8th. During the year excellent programs were given by both the students alone and by outside speakers. Two very interesting speeches were given by Miss Lowe, the county health nurse, and Miss Kathleen Manley, the well known African missionary. The girls also helped with Red Cross work. The annual Tennessee-Kentucky Girl Reserve District meeting met March 6th at Newport. Deanne Milligan was elected Secretary and Treasurer for the following year.

DEBATING CLUB

First Row— Margaret Haynes, Martha Nowlin, Victor Leach, Fred Ewing, Clarence Easley, James L. Hipsher, Hugh M. Taylor, Nancy McMahan, Mary Bob Hale.

Third Row— Mr. Murrell (Sponsor), Edwin Rader.

This year's debating club activities began in September with the election of officers, and the announcement of the year's subject: Resolved, that a federal world government should be established. Later the team was selected and started working. The affirmative team was composed of Betty Jones and Floyd Tuttle, and the negative of Hugh Taylor and Victor Leach.

The year's interscholastic debates included one with Maryville, two with White Pine, and the Tennessee Interscholastic Literary League meet at U. T. on April 10, where both teams made a good showing, the negative getting in the semi-finals. The last debate was between the two teams, before the D. A. R.

We had many good programs during the year, with discussions of debating, and extemporaneous debates.

Second Row— Margaret Haynes, Martha Nowlin, Fred Ewing, Mr. Murrell (Sponsor), James L. Hipsher, Jo Anne Sawyer, Hugh M. Taylor, Clarence Easley, Mary Bob Hale, Deanne Milligan, Jeane Strate.

Third Row— Jack Cavett, Sherman Turner, Eddie Julian, Herbert Bacon, Buddy Julian, Carroll Graham, Victor Leach, Jimmy French, Charles Harrell, John Reynolds, Eugene Justice.

REPORT

The paper staff was selected early in September and the first of sixteen by-weekly papers came out in the middle of the month. In spite of shortage of paper and other supplies, we had one of the best papers yet, 'till the final issue in May. It was well represented in the Tennessee Press Conference April 10.

The Hurricane Staff regretted very much, the loss of the original editor, Clarence Easley, as well as several other members who joined the Armed Forces. Nevertheless, these places were well filled by the new appointees.

In the State Wide High School contest for school papers, the Hurricane won 4th. place.

GIRLS 4-H CLUB

First Row— Bertie Masengill, Louella Gobble, Blanch Wilder, Lucy Williams, Georgia Garretson.

Second Row— Helen Moore, Virginia Price, Mary Margaret Bell, Marjorie Ewing, Billie Canter, Mae Young, Margaret Nan Moore, Polly Smith, Bessie Eller, Norma Jean Ellis, Leora Eller.

Third Row— June Allen, Virginia Epps, Jimmie Ruth McKinney, Glenn Hunt, Geneva Croxdale.

Fourth Row— Agnes Bryan, Dorothy Soard, Carolyn King.

REPORT

The 4-H Club has held its meetings regularly since it was organized. Miss McKeel, Home Demonstration Agent, met with the girls each month and taught them how to take care of their clothes during the war emergency. The 4-H Club girls also are doing their part in producing Victory Gardens.

Mae Young attended the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, in November 1942. This trip was an award for winning the state clothing contest.

Second Row— H. C. Evans Jr., C. T. Vance Jr., Edwin Rader, Elizabeth Pearson, Kathryn Miller, Katie Bewley, Julia Cruze, J. P. Stubblefield, Billy Hale, Francis Housley.

REPORT

Latini Contententes, made up of the members of the Sophomore Latin Class, was organized for the purpose of stimulating interest in the study of the Latin Language and Roman life. Programs on related themes are given at the regular monthly meetings. Latin contests are conducted also at each meeting, thereby encouraging an active interest of all members in the mechanics of the language.

Well here we are: Twelve Birds of a Feather flocking together--along with our Super Delux Sponsor, Miss Holt!!

We have had extremely good times this year. We had a "Victory" dance and bought a Bond for the school, which we hope will help a little.

As eight of us are leaving, we wish the best of luck to the ones left behind.

TUNE IN

Kasper Kroggins, czar of cod-fish industry, and Jerry Kennedy, his advertising manager, are telling the world about Kroggins Kippered Kod-fish via radio. Joe Brown hopes to get the radio contract, so puts on a test program.

Mrs. Kroggins is determined to sing on the program, but Jerry and Binks, announcers, make other arrangements whereby Mitzi, telephone operator, can take her place. A telephone conversation discloses to Mrs. Kroggins that she has been double crossed, so she orders Jerry discharged. Jean becomes angered at her friend Joe for humiliating her mother, and Phipps arrives to tell Joe to pay for his station or return it to him. Mitzi quits her job and gives Jerry the "cold shoulder" for involving her in the deal.

Second act opens with Mrs. Kroggins New Year masquerade in WTNT studios. As Phipps believes Mrs. Kroggins was singer on radio he offers Joe the station for Mitzi's contract but complications deter the deal, so when he hears the real Mitzi sing he gives her a part in his new musical revue.

Throckmorton brings a wonderful conclusion to the deal by bringing news of Joe's inheritance to a large estate.

The music department has enjoyed a most unusual year. Due to the war, all music contests and festivals were cancelled and a large number of boys from the Chorus and Band volunteered for various branches of the Armed Services. In view of these facts the results of the music department have been great.

In the fall fifteen chorus members sang in the East Tennessee Chorus at the Teachers Meeting in Knoxville. The Sing Sing Glee Club presented their annual sacred concerts in the First Methodist Church and First Baptist Church, sang for several chapel programs, presented the operetta "Tune In", March 26, as well as the music for Commencement and a number of Civic Clubs.

Officers for the Glee Club in the fall were: Pres., Pete Newman; Vice Pres., Sophia Smith; Sec'y., Virginia Epps; Treas., Jack Cavett and Librarian, Charles Woods.

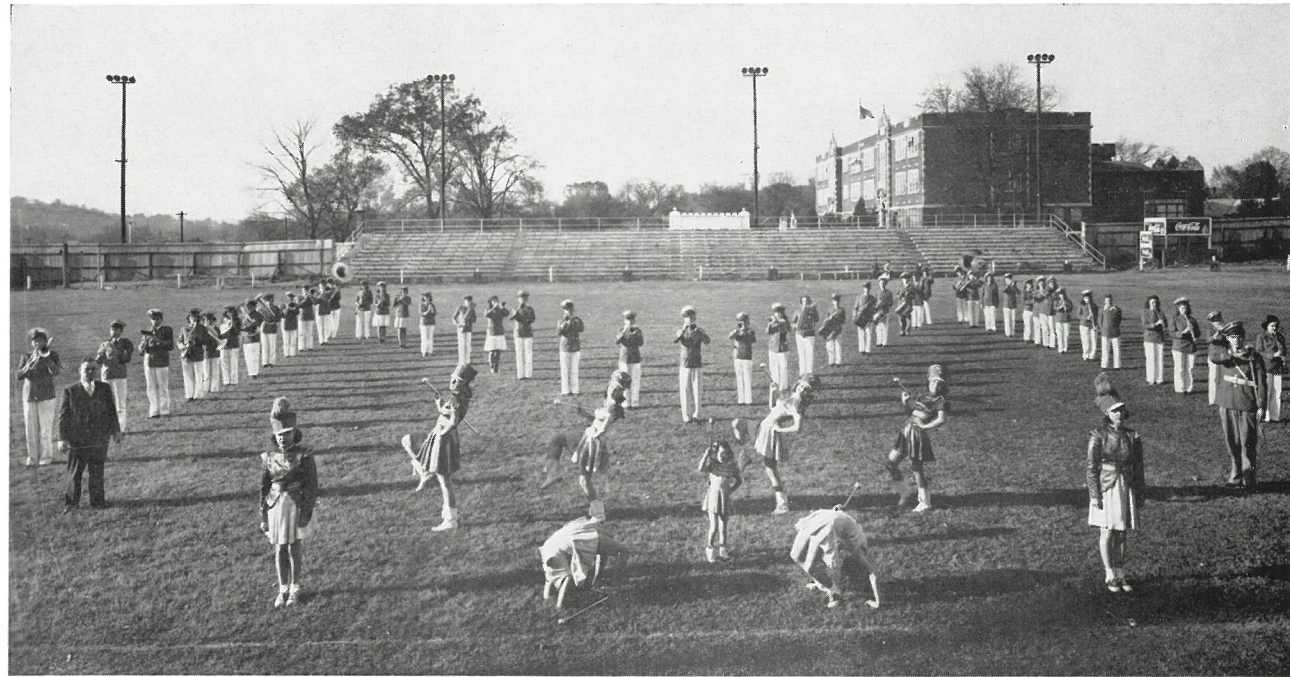

Officers elected for Spring Semester were; Pres., James Hipsher; Vice Pres., Jack Cavett; Sec'y., Virginia Epps; Treas., Sherman Turner and Librarian, Peggy Beach.

THIRD PERIOD CHORUS

ORCHESTRA

M. H. S. BAND

The Band made good showings during the football season this year under the splendid direction of Mr. M. L. Blackwelder, playing for every game with new drill for each game. Although transportation was drastically curtailed, the band was allowed to go with the team to Greeneville and Knoxville.

The most impressive drill of the season was during the Greeneville game played in Morristown when the stadium lights were out, the band formed the letters U. S. A. with flashlights. The audience sang "God Bless America" with the band. Preceding this, two acrobats, dressed like Green Devils, staged some stunts while the band formed a large "G". For the first time in the history of M. H. S., the band sponsored the Junior High Drill Squad with Christine Reagan as drill Major and Miss Bernice Knight as director.

Drum Major— Louis Bean

BOY'S BASKETBALL TEAM

Regardless of the fact that Coach Siler left for Red Cross Service earlier in the season and that several players were lost to the armed forces, the Hurricanes displayed their grit by playing just as hard. They must be commended for their playing especially since their opponents were the best teams in East Tennessee. They played as a welded unit and there were no outstanding players.

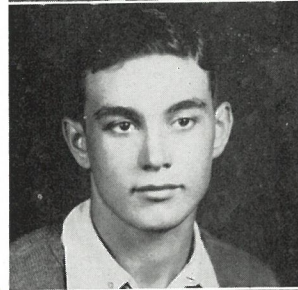

The Hurricanettes playing without a coach, also, never gave up and looked good even in defeat. Having an inexperienced team, left them undaunted. Their playing was characterized by determination and sportsmanship, something which all teams should have. Near the close of the season Miss Elaine Majors, Commercial teacher, did a fine job in coaching.

RALPH JONES JIMMY MILLER
Sub-End Center

Although handicapped with the fact that several of the boys joined the armed forces, the Hurricanes had a good season. Lead by one of the most colorful coaches in the South, our boys came out respected by some of the best teams in East Tennessee. Four of them, "Baldy" Cosson, Billy Russell, Howard Taylor and "Um" Garrett won honorable mention on the All East Tennessee football team.

"Baldy" Cosson- had plenty of driving power and the spark of the team's morale.

Pete Newman- a fine captain to be depended upon at all times. He was quick, smart and always willing to do his part.

Billy Russell- a passing wizard and deserved credit for a lot of M. H. S. scores.

Fred Cole- a smart field general and fine ball carrier.

Jack Goan- a very dependable punter who did most of the kicking for the Hurricanes.

J. T. Noe- a good end who was hard on our opponent's blockers and ball carriers. He was responsible for a lot of the Hurricane's gains.

Howard Taylor- although not recognized as properly as he should have been, was one of the best tackles in East Tennessee.

Lee Klepper- although this being his first year of football, we praise him for his fine showing for the Hurricane supporters.

David Noe- to be remembered as one of M. H. S. most outstanding guards who never failed to do his bit for the team.

"Fat" Graham- with 240 pounds to back him up, he was trouble to the opposing teams.

Jimmy Miller- a center who kept up the teams morale although he had a big job of delivering the ball.

Hugh Taylor- although no spectacular action was seen from him, he could always be depended upon to play a good hard game.

Ralph Jones- could always go out and show the team what was what around his territory.

"Um" Garrett- snagged many "hard to get" passes from the backs and was more than once the hero of the game.

Marshall Bean- although a sub-back, ran interference aptly for many winning plays.

M. H. S. ORGANIZED VICTORY CORPS

In response to the request of the government for all high schools to organize a Victory Corps, Morristown went all out to meet this request as they had done in previous activities sponsored by the government.

This Victory Corps consists of five different divisions, Land Service, led by their sponsor, Mr. W. S. Murrell and president Sherman Turner, Sea Service, headed by Mr. Burdine and Jimmy French, Air Service, Mr. Isenberg, and Charles Harrell, Community Service, led by their sponsors, Miss Ruby Yeary and Miss Mae Smith, and their President Margaret Harrison, Production Service, led by their sponsors, Mr. J. S. Fish and Miss Mary Ruth Holt, President, Martha Webb.

Approximately ninety percent of the student body joined this club which was a fine representation.

The club met about every two weeks and discussed the progress made with certain projects. One of the main purposes was to influence the making of victory gardens.

One of the activities of the organization was military drill which was directed by Captain Murrell. This activity was a very helpful one and was enjoyed by all who took part. The army was conducted in the same manner as the U. S. Army. We had Sergeants, Corporals, Pfc's and Buck Privates. This Army put on an exhibition in the stadium with a large crowd turning out to see what Captain Murrell's Army could do.

This training was very beneficial to all boys who will enter the armed forces.

This Victory Corps, and others all over the United States have been carrying on with great success.

Anita Horton—"If you were my husband I'd give you poison."
Keith Lowery—"If you were my wife I'd take it."

Mr. Murrell—"Billy have you taken a shower?"
Billy Russell—"No, is there one gone?"

Spring has sprung,
The grass has ris:
I wonder where the flowers is?

Did you hear that one about the cross eyed school teacher who couldn't control her "Pupils?"

Farmer—"Hi, there! What are you doing up in my cherry tree?"
Carolyn C—"There's a notice down there to keep off the grass."

Miss Carter—"Can you give me an example of wasted energy?"
Virginia Massengill—"Yes mam, telling a hair raising story to a bald headed man."

John Helms—"You know I come from a famous family, you should know my family tree."
M. Lou N.—"And you're the sap, I guess."

Evelyn Jones is so dumb she thinks the Western Union is the cowboy's underwear.

Miss Ona—"Can this coat be worn in the rain without hurting it?"
Fur Salesman—"Lady, did you ever see a skunk carrying an umberalla?"

Jimmy French—"Say, did you hear about that guy that invented a device for looking through walls?"
Paul Walker—"No, I didn't. What does he call it?"
Jimmy: "A window."

Micky Gilbert—"Oh Louis, that popcorn smells so good."
Louis Bean—"Yeh, it does, we'll go back and drive a little closer to the stand."

Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
Oh, new jokes
Where are you?

Jean M.—"What makes you think this is a night for wild oats?"
Jimmy Miller—"Your eyes have told me SOW."

Tessie—"A certain boy sent me an orchid for the G. R. Banquet."
Deanne—"Never say a certain boy, no boy is certain until you've got him."

Girls when they went for a swim
once dressed like mother Hubbard, now they have a different whim
and dress more like her cupboard.

Miss Mae Smith was unwrapping a package in Biology class and explained to the pupils it was a fine specimen of a dissected frog. Upon opening it, she found two sandwiches, a hardboiled egg, and a banana. Dazedly she exclaimed, "But surely I ate my lunch."

I fool so feelish!

Mary B. H.—"Oh gosh, I don't know what to do."

Betty J.—"What is the matter?"

Mary B.—"Gratz promises to stop drinking if I marry him and Jack threatens to begin if I won't be his wife."

Miss Biva S.—"In what condition was Shakespeare when he died?"
Tommy Horner—"DEAD."

Mrs. Van Pelt had requested her students to be more personal in their themes, she was somewhat surprised when she received this ending to Jack Strate's paper. "Well teacher; how is your old man these days, and before I forget it, could you lend me five bucks?"

Esther Horner's rules for what to do in case of an air raid:

I. When the bombs start falling, start screaming bloody murder, (It adds to the confusion and scares the kids to death.)

II. If you're in a bakery, grab a cake or a pie.

III. If you're in a restaurant grab a bowl of sugar. (Am, I kiddin?)

IV. If you're in a movie, grab the first man you see.

V. When the air raid warden tries to tell you what to do, knock him down. (He always saves the best seats for his friends anyway)

Charlie H; (On his first train ride.)

The conductor came through and called for his ticket, reluctantly Charlie gave it to him. Shortly after the candy man came through calling "peanuts, candy, chewing gum"

"Listen here you," cried Charlie, "I gave that other man my ticket when he asked for it but I'll be darned if I give you my chewing gum."

Mr. Murrell—"Which is more important in industry; labor, capital or brains?"

Betty Grigsby—"I'll answer that if you'll tell me which is the most important leg of a three legged stool."

Fred Ewing's definition of rationing:

Less and less of more and more oftener and oftener.
